

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

No Time To Curl Up

Washington, Feb. 7.—The most recent and reliable polls show that while Mr. Truman has lost some ground with Republicans he still retains his peak popularity among Democrats in the country and that a majority of the people as a whole approve of him. But this is not the Washington view.

HERE, in Congress, among the politicians of both parties, inside as well as outside the Administration—and among newspaper men—there is a very different feeling. The President is criticized for these big things and little things; for what he does and for what he fails to do. Right now the attack centers upon the Truman appointments, particularly those of the somewhat unsavory Mr. Ed Pauley and Mr. George Allen. While there is full justification for criticism of these and of Mr. Truman, too, the extent to which it is carried borders on the grotesque. It is a calculated campaign of presidential disparagement. And some of it is petty, strained, and not well based. Though the critics are not always in accord, their general theme is the Truman inadequacy. What they differ about are the details. For example, some of our professional liberals with CIO connections and intimate touch with certain not-so-loyal Cabinet members, strain- edly agree that "business" has moved in and "taken charge." This is repeated and repeated, though it seems in direct conflict with the facts and certainly clashes with the contention of another group which asserts that, with the President's approval, Mr. Hannegan is bringing in to the Democratic committee for policy-forming purposes some of the young and ardent "advanced thinkers" of the Roosevelt regime.

THE main purpose of these is openly stated to be the elimination as a presidential adviser of the unfortunate Mr. John F. Snyder, against whom a persistent propaganda has been directed by the "labor liberals" in an effort to make him out a slusher as well as a stupid figure. Of course, Mr. Snyder is nothing of the sort, and the attempt to make this quite average, wholly well-meaning, entirely orthodox and very capable St. Louis banker appear a malign influence is absurd. What it really seems to be is part of the Truman attack, which is designed to paint the President as a weak and inadequate little man, influenced toward the right by one set of advisers who are pro-business and then toward the left by another set, who are strongly CIO and very radically inclined.

THE general idea of both seems to be to picture Mr. Truman as a very poor excuse for a President. Indeed, at this time, hardly anyone in the Capital has a kind word for him. It has reached the stage where a cheap labor leader like Walter Reuther can come here and, in talking to a group of newspaper men, speak of the President of the United States in a tone of pitying contempt—without rebuke. It is true that Mr. Truman is far from the strongest President we have had. But he is by no means the weakest. Of course, he lacks the dramatic showmanship and egotism of his immediate predecessor which Continued on Page Three

Weidmans Entertain At Dinner at Their Home

CROYDON, Feb. 7.—Mr. and Mrs. John E. Weidman, State Road, entertained at dinner on Friday evening. The table was gay with Valentine decorations. Favors were red cellophane hats.

Those present: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Campbell, Bristol; Mrs. Fred Fell, Oak Lane; Mrs. Helen Shephardson, Frankford; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Backser and Mr. and Mrs. John E. Weidman, Croydon.

STOP THE FARCE!

Calling the Pearl Harbor probe a farce is not idle talk. The investigation meets the definition. One meaning of the word is "ridiculous or empty show." What could be more accurate?

But equally exact is the meaning of the word in the theatre, "a dramatic composition in which great latitude is allowed to probability of happenings and naturalness of characters."

A stock formula for farces is deception. The audience is not deceived, but the other characters are. Such a play is Goldsmith's "She Stoops to Conquer." The fun comes as each player, by ludicrous means, is made aware of the deception.

Again the Pearl Harbor probe qualifies. It is as deceptive as a sleight-of-hand show. The audience—the American people—is not deceived; or at least has no reason to be.

The glee with which "facts" acknowledged for four years have been denied, the dismay of witnesses confronted with documents rifled from their personal files, the adroitness with which important documents have been made to disappear—all these have strong elements of humor.

But are the American people amused? The travesty has been put on for their benefit. Are they splitting their sides over the skill with which deception has been staged? Or are they echoing the words attributed to Victoria, "The Queen is not amused." In the more modern radio phrase, is their reaction, "Tain't funny, McGee?"

Sometimes it is said a joke is only effective when there is a tear behind it. On that basis—and only on that basis—is there humor in the Pearl Harbor investigation.

ONE MAN'S OPINION . . .

By Walter Kiernan
(Distributed by International News Service)

Every girl should have one good black dress and every man should have one pair of pants. But where is he going to find them?

Things are so tough in men's wear that clothing store dummies are wearing snooks with their homburgs.

The law reads that when a man appears on the street dressed in hat and shoes with pelt in between he is over-exposed and/or under-supplied.

We have no shirts we have no suits, and there are things which cannot be covered by a confident smile.

The Justice Department has assigned six men in soft shoes to look into the situation and they will start out as soon as they can find something to wear.

A demand for investigation will be launched on the floor of the House when my Congressman gets his bathrobe back from the laundry.

The Republicans will charge that the Democrats have thrown a monkey wrench in the blue serge machine. The Democrats already have their answer ready. . . "Blame Hoover."

Please send mail to my home . . . my pants have sprung a hole.

ONE BRISTOL RESIDENCE AND THREE CROYDON BUSINESS HOUSES ROBBED; BURGLAR CAUGHT IN BRISTOL HOME

Trenton Man Caught and Held at Point of Gun for Bristol Police—Robberies at Robbins' Drug Store, R. A. M. Radio Shop, and Frank's Cleaners, Croydon, Net Cash and Goods Totalling $560.

One Bristol residence and three Croydon business houses were robbed during the night.

In Bristol the robber was caught in the act. One of the Croydon business men experienced his fifth robbery since he entered business there.

The places entered are:

The home of Carlo Accardi, 902 Spring street, Bristol, where a gold watch was taken. The burglar was captured at the point of a gun and turned over to Bristol police.

Robbins' Drug Store, Croydon, where total loss in goods and cash is estimated at $200.

R. A. M. Radio Shop, Croydon, where new goods and radios under repair, also cash, with total value of about $300, were taken.

Frank's Cleaners, Croydon, where about $60 in cash is missing.

A man who broke into a house on Spring street picked the wrong place if it was his intention to buritize it, this morning.

The family of Carlo Accardi, 902 Spring street, heard unusual noises for 3:50 in the morning on the first floor of their home. Three sons, John, Samuel and Frank accompanied by their father, grabbed a gun and went downstairs. They cornered a man in the front room which is a store and told him to throw up his hands and stay where he was. With the odds of four to one against him and the four being armed with a gun, the man identifying himself as Mario J. DeLucia, South Clinton avenue, Trenton, N. J., did not make the slightest resistance.

Police were telephoned for and Officers Murphy and Vanzant responded in the patrol car and found DeLucia still standing under the watchful eye of his captors.

Police took DeLucia to police headquarters and after questioning him learned that he had left his car in a driveway on Lafayette street. The man was searched and the only article found upon him which the Accardi family claimed was a daughter's gold wrist watch valued at about $25.

In searching the car police found that DeLucia was equipped with a large number of automobile keys, door keys, pencil flashlights, bowling shoes, camera, a tool kit with dozens of wrenches, pieces of wire, and a large assortment of tools.

DeLucia gained entrance to the Accardi place by forging his way through a basement window. He then broke open a door into the first floor of the dwelling. It was the noise due to the breaking of the door which perhaps attracted the attention of the family and led to the capture of the man. Police are confident that DeLucia is a professional burglar and he is to be closely questioned today by Bristol police, Chief Bucks County Detective Anthony Russo and State Police who have had a number of robberies in the nearby townships recently.

The R. A. M. Radio Service store is believed to be the first of the trio of business houses entered in the Manor block, Croydon, during the early morning hours. The thief or thieves forced a double door, the main entrance on Bristol Pike. The shop is operated by Andrew Magazzu, R. Marazzu and Romelia Magazzu.

There the goods stolen included a new portable recorder worth $49.50; five small radios being repaired for customers, and valued at an aggregate of $190; an electric clock valued at $10; and $50 in cash. The money was taken from the store cash register.

The thief then made his way through a connecting door from the radio shop to the establishment of Frank's Cleaners, this door not being locked. The operator, Frank Vanucci, busied himself this morning to check clothing sent in for cleaning, but found none missing. Sixty dollars was taken from the cash drawer.

The intruder then cut the plate glass in the front door at Robbins' Drug Store. Loot secured there included approximately $100 in cash, some of this being taken from the cash register; some wallets valued at $5 each; and cigarette lighters. Total loss there is about $200.

It was at three o'clock this morning that Mr. Robbins heard his dog bark in the basement. Investigation showed that the glass was out of the front door and the shade raised. His loss was then discovered. A screw driver and hammer, taken from the radio shop, Continued on Page Four

AGED MAN BURNED WHEN STOVE EXPLODES

Chas. Critti, 80, Makes Way Unaided Out of Burning Room on Pear Street

HE LIVED ALONE

An aged man was slightly burned about the head this morning when an oil stove exploded in his home.

Charles Critti, 80, was burned in the front room of his home, 933 Pear street, when the flames from the exploding oil stove enveloped the room. Critti lives alone and has been ill. He was eating his breakfast when an oil stove used for heating purposes exploded. The aged man made his way unaided to the street as flames began licking the interior of the structure.

Residents in the neighborhood saw the fire and sent in an alarm. Firemen responded quickly and soon "knocked down" the fire to get it under control. The flames destroyed the furnishings of the front room of the dwelling and considerably damaged the interior of the one room. Firemen succeeded in confining it to the one room.

The two-story dwelling is at the end of a row, and had the firemen not controlled the flames as quickly as they did considerable damage would have resulted.

PRESSURE SAUCEPAN IS A GREAT AID TO ONE PREPARING FOOD

By Sara Jane Kelsch

(Ass't Home Economics Representative)

Every homemaker is interested in equipment which will save time and also give a better cooked product. The pressure saucepan just coming on the market can do both of these. Any one of the several different makes of saucepans will give good results if the manufacturer's directions are followed carefully. These pans are made of heavy aluminum or stainless steel. There are two types of lids—a flexible stainless steel lid and one that clamps on by sliding in grooves.

Before the saucepan will fill with steam, the air must first be driven out. If the cooker is full of air instead of steam, foods won't cook in the time recommended. At a pressure of 5 to 15 pounds the foods will cook in less than half the ordinary time. Cooking is stopped by removing the covered saucepan from the stove and putting it in a pan of cold water or allowing cold water to run over the sides.

In a pressure saucepan, snap beans cook in two and a half minutes, beets in 12 minutes, carrots in one and a half minutes, whole medium-sized potatoes in 15 minutes, pot roast in 15 minutes per pound, and fricassee chicken in 30 minutes. Because of the short time required for cooking and the small amount of water used, foods cooked in the pressure saucepan retain more of their natural flavors, color, and food value. Time and fuel also are saved. Several different foods may be cooked at one time. Some women prefer to cook foods by separating with a rack, or putting dishes on a rack, or placing food in parchment paper bags. Directions for cooking different foods come with the saucepan.

At present, there is only one pressure saucepan that is made so it can be used for canning as well as everyday cooking.

amount of water used, foods cooked in the pressure saucepan retain more of their natural flavors, color, and food value. Time and fuel also are saved. Several different foods may be cooked at one time. Some women prefer to cook foods by separating with a rack, or putting dishes on a rack, or placing food in parchment paper bags. Directions for cooking different foods come with the saucepan.

At present, there is only one pressure saucepan that is made so it can be used for canning as well as everyday cooking.

COLE'S PASSING AIDS TEAM IN WINNING GAME

Rohm & Haas Defeats The Hightstown Rug Team, 67 to 42

COLE SCORES THREE

Plays First Game Since He Entered the Service Four Years Ago

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 7.—"Johnny" Cole gave a brilliant exhibition of passing on the Washington School floor last night as the Rohm and Haas team swamped Hightstown Rug, 67-42, in a Mercer County Industrial League game.

Cole only scored three points but it was his passing of the sphere that enabled Joe Roe, Bill Gallagher, Ralph Cahall, and Augie Everitt to hit the cords consistently. "King" Cole was recently discharged from the army and it was his first game since entering the service over four years ago. Also in a Rohm and Haas uniform was "Chuck" Klein who played a fine defensive game.

Cahall scored 16 points in the Bristol team's triumph with Bill Gallagher having 14, and Joe Roe, 14. Martin was high for Hightstown with 16 points.

TWO GAMES TO BE PLAYED HERE TONIGHT

Two games will be played on the Rohm & Haas court tonight, starting at 7:30 o'clock. In the first, Hightstown Rug will meet Kaiser Cargo, while in the second game Rohm & Haas will play Roebeling. Both Bristol teams, Kaiser and the chemical mixers, still have an opportunity of getting in the playoffs. Rohm & Haas is trailing the Kaiser outfit, which is in third place in the Mercer County League standing. Rohm & Haas is in fourth place, one game ahead of the fifth place Panelyte team.

Manager Anthony Castor, of Rohm & Haas, will use both "King" Cole and "Chuck" Klein, recently released from the armed forces, in the game.

CELTICS TO TRY TO GET IN PLAY-OFFS

The Celtics will have their final opportunity of getting in the playoffs of the Bristol Youth League tonight when they meet the Franklin A. C. in the first game on the Mutual Aid floor, at 7:30 o'clock. In the nightcap, the Third Ward Eagles meet the Edgely A. C.

The Celtics have won three games and lost six and a loss tonight will practically eliminate them from finishing in fourth place, the final play-off position. Franklin is still in first place but a defeat tonight will put the Harriman team in a deadlock for first place.

The Eagles are in third place in the standing and do not expect much trouble from the Edgelyites, but the township boys are the surprise of the league and have improved in every game and may spring an upset on the Eagles.

SCRANTON—(INS)—Lackawanna County assistant school superintendent Robert Northrup told the Council of Teachers and Parents that the military peace time training proposed by the armed services would not provide adequate health of discipline programs.

Many Events Will Mark Boy Scouts 16th Anniversary

Awards will also be made to Scouts who have advanced to second and first class, and Star and Life ranks. The beginning of a campaign to aid scouts throughout the world will be part of the Eagle Court of Honor. A group of Scouts under the leadership of William Carlin, chairman of the activities committee; and George Bishop of Doylestown, neighborhood commissioner, will present a dramatization of the theme "Scouts of the World Building Together" and the particular campaign of "Shirts Off Our Backs."

All parents of present and former Scouts are asked to look through the closets, chests and bureau drawers in a search for equipment which may be sent to Scouts of countries which have been deprived of all uniforms and equipment by the aggressive nations. This equipment should be turned over to local troops which in turn will prepare such for shipment to the Scouts of other lands, who in many cases haven't even as much as a Scout neckerchief. This will give them the opportunity to again take up the work of Scouting. The campaign of "Shirts Off Our Backs" will continue until March 15th, after which all equipment, Scout uniforms and other Scout paraphernalia will be sent where it is needed through channels provided by the National Council. It is believed there are more than 100 former Scouts who have laid Scout uniforms and equipment aside and who personally or through their parents will give to this great humanitarian need, to prove the importance of the Scout Law, "A Scout is Friendly." He is friendly to all and a brother to every other Scout. The particular point which is important to remember as announced by council authorities is that all such equipment should be sent to the troops rather than to the council office. Tags will be presented for the troops so that the Scouts may identify themselves to the brother scouts of other communities.

LIGONIER—(INS)—Taking a tip from century-old records, sportsmen have decided to combat the growing number of foxes by staging a fox hunt with more than 300 persons participating.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR

She's as lively as a youngster—Now her Backache is better—Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.
